- [1] Access to electrical outlets and other such needs will be provided to the best of our ability, but may not be guaranteed.
- [2] Vendor registration includes two tables, inclusion in our list of vendors and NARCON-2005 admission for one person. If you plan to participate in NARCON-2005 activities as an attendee, please also fill out the NARCON-2005 attendee form and leave the registration fee fields blank.
- [3] Extra tables are on a space and unit-available, first-come-first-served basis. If we are unable to provide you with the requested tables, we will notify you and make an appropriate refund.
- [4] Advertising in the Program Book is limited and will be assigned on a first-come-first-served basis. Any additional advertisements will be printed on drop-in flyers included as an addendum to each program book, including any that may be sold to non-attendees. All ads will be printed in black and white; you may provide color copy, but it will be converted to grayscale for printing. Premium spaces are the inside and backside cover, available on first-come-first-served basis. All ads placed in the premium space must be full page. If we are unable to provide you with the requested premium space, we will notify you and make an appropriate refund.
- [5] There will be extremely few if any extra T-shirts printed, so all orders MUST be placed prior to 2/18/2005 to guarantee availability. Additions/changes to your order may be made until that time. Shirts are 100% white cotton, medium weight, with the NARCON-2005 logo printed on the front.
- [6] The lunch will consist of a Deluxe Executive ham or turkey sandwich (meat of your choice, Wisconsin cheese, lettuce, tomato on a kaiser roll), potato chips, hand fruit, cookie and canned soda. Napkins and condiments will be also provided. Box lunches will be delivered both to the convention (UW-Parkside) and the NARCON-2005 sport and HPR launch (Richard Bong Recreational Area).
